

The Active Network Acquires Jencess Software & Technologies

----

San Diego-based The Active Network said today that it has acquired Jencess Software & Technologies, Inc., a provider of golf management software.

Financial terms of the acquisition were not disclosed. Jencess is a provider of software used by golf course management, including point of sale, accounting, and golf tournaments. The firm's software is used by over 450 golf course customers worldwide. The Active Network is a provider of software and online services to community service organizations and sport-related groups.