

John Leenane joins Enterprise Partners as entrepreneur-in-residence

09/08/2006. Source: AltAssets.

San Diego-headquartered venture capital firm Enterprise Partners Venture Capital has appointed John Leenane as an entrepreneur-in-residence. Leenane will focus on digital content and wireless deals.

Leenane joins Enterprise Partners from PayPal where he headed mobile merchant services.

Enterprise Partners managing director Carl Eibl said, 'John's experience developing mobile services for merchants and consumers, along with his understanding of disruptive business models and new internet payment systems, will be of real value to Enterprise as we pursue creative venture opportunities in the digital content and wireless space.'

Leenane added, 'Enterprise Partners has a long history of investing in technology companies in California and I am looking forward to extending the firm's investment presence in digital media and wireless, particularly here in the Bay Area.'

Enterprise Partners focuses on seed, early stage and promising later stage companies across a broad spectrum of digital, wireless and semiconductor technologies and the life sciences.

Copyright © 2006 AltAssets