

San Jose-Based Calient Networks Lands $10 Million in Funding

San Jose, Calif. -- Calient Networks, a San Jose-based developer of fiber management systems based on optical switching, said that it has landed $10 million in a new round of funding, led by TeleSoft Partners. Enterprise Partners Venture Capital, Sofinnova Venture, Wall Street Technology Partners and other previous investors also participated. The company said that it will use the proceeds to accelerate production, expand sales and enter new markets. With the completion of the round, the company said that George Schmitt, the managing director of Telesoft Partners, has been elected chairman of its board of directors.

<http://www.calient.net/>

http://lw.pennnet.com/display\_article/310888/13/ARTCL/Display/none/1/Calient-Networks-adds-funding,-new-chairman/

November 02, 2007 in Private Equity