

2/6/2006 11:04:00 PM

Test helps predict premature labor

A test measuring fibronectin, a protein that leaks into the birth canal shortly before a baby is born, is increasingly being used to help predict the onset of premature labor. Watch the video news report.

<http://www.marketwatch.com/tvradio/playerfull.asp?siteID=yhoo&guid=%7B754E4E69%2D12B4%2D4797%2DB082%2D20F78B8C92AD%7D>