

IFC, VMIX Partner On Web Series

----

San Diego-based VMIX and the Independent Film Channel (IFC) disclosed this morning that the two are working on a new, web series as part of a new IFC channel on the VMIX.com web site. IFC will begin airing "Getting Away With Murder" as an online-only offering. Financial terms of the deal were not disclosed. IFC said that the online series is aimed at showcasing the firm's unique content and to increase viewership. VMIX is a provider of an online video sharing web site.